

REQUEST FOR VOLUNTEERS TO MAN THE PORTERS LAKE BOAT LANDING

For the past two summers Alexa Gravunder worked at the boat landing for us. She will not be available this year, nor will her younger sister. The approximate cost to pay someone to man the landing for about 80 shifts during the summer (Memorial Weekend through Labor Day weekend) is $3000.00. Having the boat landing manned is a huge criterion that the DNR takes into consideration when considering grant requests. However, the main reason we do it is to help prevent invasives from coming into our lake.

With this said, the commissioners are requesting that lake owners volunteer minimal time to cover most of the shifts throughout the summer. The savings would be a bottom line increase in our financials, that potentially could be used to off set any possible assessment increase if the Jarvis land is acquired (the equivalent of approximately $46 per land owner).

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

JOB DESCRIPTION: Physically be present at the boat landing for the time period signed up for. When boaters arrive with their boat/trailer, do a physical inspection of the boat, trailer and motor for any plants. If they are present, all plants need to be removed and disposed of properly at the landing. Keep a log of the number of boaters that enter the lake during your shift and if any plants needed to be removed.

SALARY: Satisfaction of providing volunteer time to preserve the quality of your lake.
